

For Coach Mac

I'm coming to observe Friday's session at Sparkhouse Uptown — before we even shake hands, wanted to bring something useful. Spent a couple hours poking around Do Greater's public-facing footprint. Here's what jumped out.

THE BIG ONE

$120K

in free Google Ads spend, sitting unclaimed — every year.

As a registered 501(c)(3), Do Greater qualifies for the Google Ad Grants program — $10,000/month in free search ad spend, no strings, built specifically for nonprofits like yours. It doesn't look like it's ever been applied for. That's real money that could be driving volunteers, donors, and families straight to your programs, at zero media cost. This alone is worth a phone call to get moving on.

A FEW OTHER QUICK WINS

- Site is slow. dogreater.org runs on budget shared hosting with a heavy theme, no caching, no CDN — costs you visitors before they even see the mission.
- Google Business Profile is unclaimed. Easy free win for local search and maps visibility — five minutes to claim.
- Untapped audiences. YouTube channel exists but is dormant, no TikTok (where your teens already are), no LinkedIn (where your sponsors already are).
- Tools installed, not turned on. You've already got analytics, forms, and popup plugins in place — they're just not configured to capture anything yet.
- No way to stay in touch after an event. People leave a session fired up, and there's no QR code, text-to-join, or follow-up email to catch that energy before it fades.
- No volunteer or lead funnel. There's no simple path for someone who wants to help to raise their hand and get routed anywhere.

No pitch here — just wanted you to have this before we're even introduced. Would genuinely love to hear what's on your mind as a founder sometime, no agenda attached.
